Radio Station Planned For Campus Broadcast

By Craig Tynan

This is WSSE St. Michael's College radio station bringing you your Campus Disc Jockey.

How would you like to hear this announcement coming from your set. Well, it is an idea that is quickly becoming realized upon the entrance of Charles Eldridge, a very capable freshman with a lot of experience at radio broadcasting and engineering. He profitably operated a station at the University of Rhode Island before coming to St. Michaels.

The possibilities of doing the same thing on our campus are great. It is receiving enthusiastic support from both faculty and students and only awaits the approval of the Student Council. The price of this project is not as high as one might expect. In fact, if it is compared to the money UVM spent and are spending on theirs, the contrast is phenomenal.

They paid out $3000 already and they are still not broadcasting. But, our thrifty Charlie says that we can be on the air for only $300. He knows where the bargains are and can obtain a transmitter and control board for about $125. Speakers, turntables, wire, ear phones, meters, etc., will all be purchased with the strictest of economizing. If anyone knows a cheap source of radio materials or has a special interest in radio then contact Charlie at St. James 206. The most likely spot for the control room is Austin Hall and its range would cover the whole campus and probably Fanny Allen also.

The advantages of WSSE (Society of St. Edmond) are enumerable, Club attendance and activities would be boosted because it would be equally at the service of all of them. A closer contact would be had between students and faculty, which fosters school spirit.

1954 Shield Dedicated To Professor Gianelli

First Layman Chosen By Senior Class

PROF. A. P. GIANELLI

A precedent was set at St. Michael's last week when the Senior class elected Professor Arnold Gianelli as the dedicant of their 1954 Shield. He is the first layman ever to be accorded the honor of a yearbook dedication.

An Associate Professor in the Economics department, he has been connected with the faculty of St. Michael's College since 1950, and had taught in the Philosophy Department during the Summer sessions.

Mr. Gianelli left Italy for France in the 1890's later moving on to England. London then became his birthplace in 1908, through "no deliberate choice of my own."

He won a government scholarship to the London School of Economics in 1927, and graduated in 1930 with an Honors Degree in Economics after studying under such celebrities as Dalton, Lees-Smith, (both of whom later became Cabinet Ministers); Dr. Tawney, the historian, Malnowski, the anthropologist, Hobhouse the sociologist. The President of the L.S.E. was Beveridge famed for his social security planning. Harold Laski was the main teacher of politics.

After a year in London University Teacher Training College he began teaching and held appointments in such well known schools as the Norwood Technical Institute, the Polytechnic, Regent St. and the City of London College.

During the war he helped in various government evacuation schemes and in Civil Defense.

After Travelling extensively in France, Germany, Italy, Switzerland he came to the United States in 1947 on a leave of absence. After arriving, he studied in Columbia University where he made the acquaintance of such well known economists as Stigler, J.M. Clark, and K. Polanyi. Later he taught at Loyola University, Chicago and, then, in 1950, took to the open road once more and came to St. Michael's College.

During his varied career Mr. Gianelli wrote books on: Italian cultural life, Power Shorthand, and various articles both in England and the U.S. on: epistemology, the philosophy of language, and Economics (for such periodicals as New Scholasticism, hoping to publish more extensively in those subjects.)(Modern Language Journal, Thomist, Ottawa University Review.)

He expressed the hope of publishing more extensively in these subjects.

Sodality Sponsors Nightly Rosary

During the month of October the rosary has been said in each hall, in honor of Mary under the sponsorship of the Sodality. Hopes have been expressed that this practice will not stop at the end of the month, but rather continue with everyone taking part.

Plans are being made for a formal reception, which will take place on December 8th. At this time the new members of the Sodality will be made welcome into the club. Any student who wishes to join the Sodalists in their worthwhile undertakings, are invited to the meetings, which are held every other Tuesday at College Hall (30). They will certainly be welcomed and are encouraged to attend the meeting, if only to see the club " ir action."

One of the most recent projects of the Sodality is to try and obtain crucifixes for each room in the college. The students have filled out questionaires which will give the sodalists some ideas of how the situation stands and what has to be done to correct the situation.

DiLorenzo In Charge Of Mice Used In Tests

Housekeeping for 400 doesn't bother Dick Di Lorenzo at all.

The North Adams senior at St. Michael's College has charge of the 400 mice that are used in the cancer research project.

As a laboratory assistant, Di Lorenzo has charge of the feeding and injecting of the mice that are used in the research directed by Rev. Dr. T.D. Sullivan, S.S.E.

DICK DI LORENZO AND SEVERAL OF HIS PETS.

And Di Lorenzo has charge of breeding some 250 mice monthly. He's been working on the cancer research project under Fr. Sullivan's direction since early this year. He worked right through the summer taking care of the valuable mice which are used in the project.

The project is seeking to determine the biochemical effects of certain drugs on ascites tumor. The injection of tumor cells and of the drug simultaneously enables the researchers to determine the effects. The amount and frequency of the injections are varied and the results carefully studied and recorded.

Di Lorenzo, who is president of the Biology Club, hopes to do graduate work in biology when he is graduated in June.

Working is nothing new for Dick. Before coming to St. Michael's, he worked for two years as a supervisor for the Sprague Electrical Company at North Adams.

ANNIVERSARY CELEBRATION STARTS NEXT SEPTEMBER

St. Michael's College will observe the 50th anniversary of its founding with a full year's program starting September 29, 1954.

Announcement of the general outline of plans was made by Very Rev. Francis E. Moriarty, S.S.E., president of St. Michael's.

Fr. Moriarty has designated as general chairman the Rev. Vincent B. Maloney, S.S.E., librarian at St. Michael's, a curator of the Vermont Historical Society and editor of the Burlington Diocesan Centennial Memorial Book this year.

Now a college for 750 men during the regular session, and for some 300 men and women during the summer, St. Michael's College was started by the Society of St. Edmund with 27 students in a single building, purchased with the aid of a $5500 loan.

Most Rev. John S. Michaud, bishop of Burlington, dedicated the then St. Michael's Institute on the feast of the Dedication of St. Michael, September 29, 1904. The state charter was issued in 1913.

FATHER MALONEY

Of the original founders, two are still on campus and one in France.

Very Rev. Victor F. Nicolle, former superior general of the Society of St. Edmund, is pastor of the Abbey Church at Pontigny, where the Society of St. Edmund was founded in 1843.

The Answer

It may be wondered why the MICHAELMAN is not being published every week. This is a legitimate query.

Remarks have been passed in years gone by that the staff was lazy, incompetent, or that we only come out with an edition when we felt like it.

In fact, none of these accusations are true. The cold fact is that the MICHAELMAN does not have the financial backing to be published every week. At the beginning of the year a certain amount of money is alloted by the Student Council for the expenses of a year.

This amount is sufficient only to publish the MICHAELMAN about three weeks out of four. For this single reason you will see your paper only this often.

Awaits Student Council Approval

At the Student Council meeting last Monday a Freshman - Sophomore basketball game was planned to take place as soon as possible. It is to take the place of the now defunct plans for a tug-o-war between the two classes.

A Council committee was set up to sit in on various club meetings taking place around campus to see that their meetings are held properly and that each club is active enough to be worthy of its name. The purpose of the check is to get material for a N.F.C.C.S. conference to be held later at which campus activities from all over the nation will be discussed.

Other business at the meeting concerned the Freshman elections. They are planned to take place the first Monday in December. The elections are to be conducted by the President of the Student Council and class presidents.

Quota Met In Blood Drive

By Sarto Sasseville

The opportunity to roll up one's sleeves and show our generosity in donating blood was not denied by many students, last Monday. The drawing was held on October 26, from 9:00 A.M. to 5:00 P.M. in Austin Hall.

Although the students of St. Michael's have not done as well as in past efforts, the quota was met. The Blood Bank had 142 pts. of the precious fluid at approximately 4:00 P.M. that Monday afternoon.

At this semi-annual Drive, 185 students volunteered, excluding those with colds and other ailments which prevented them from giving. The staff, comprised of nurses and doctors, amounted to 24. John O'Connor, in his second year as chairman of the Red Cross Committee here at St. Michael's, and his two assistants, Henry O'Connor and Walt Driscoll, gave a great deal of their time towards the success of this Bloodmobile. John, represented the committee in saying: "We, college students, should understand that the blood we have given has a great importance to the desperate efforts of many people to keep alive. At the present moment, there is a need of 10,000 pints of blood in the three Burlington hospitals."

The committee express their gratitude to the Faculty Wives for the important part they played in the success of this drive.

Those, who have not yet donated will be given another opportunity next semester, when the bloodmobile will return.

★★★ Star Time ★★★

PATTI PAGE, the best female seller of records, has run the gamut from a hillbilly singer on a Tulsa radio station just a few short years ago to a miss who consistently hits the best-seller lists each time she sings a new song for Mercury Records. While the first few months on shellac she sounded like every gal singer, (usually just like the one who had a hit), she soon found her own style.

THE HULLABALOO around music circles these days is on religious-type tunes. They are outselling all the ballads and upbeat songs. Success of I Believe started off the most recent push, followed by Crying in the Chapel, and now Patti Page has come out with The Lord's Prayer on wax. Most of the big names have one or more numbers of the same type in the process, with some being held back for Christmas release.

With the success of the Decca Mary Martin - Ethel Merman taping from the Ford 50th Anniversary TV show, more of the same type of records is being looked for. However, the material isn't always as great as this duo. Of course, jazz impresarios have been doing this for years.

STAN KENTON will head the "Festival of Modern American Jazz" with Errol Garner, June Christy, Dizzy Gillespie, Stan Getz and Slim Gaillard. Tour starts Nov. 1, and will last a month, hitting most of the major cities except New York where Kenton played a concert Sept. 26. Some of the most famous musicians pooled their talents on a recent record date for Clef Records. Session included Lionel Hampton, Oscar Peterson, Ray Brown and Buddy Rich in a rhythm section. Front line was composed of Flip Phillips, Illinois Jacquet, Ben Webster, Johnny Hodges, Dizzy Gillespie, and Roy Eldridge. After that cutting Rich flew to the West Coast to do another star-jammed waxing with Count Basie, Freddie Green, John Simmons, Stan Getz, Wardell Gray, Harry Edison, Buddy DeFranco, Willie Smith, Benny Carter and Arnold Ross.

ALONG THE WEST COAST: Jo Stafford signed a $1,000,000 deal with CBS for a TV show. Singer has had several radio programs in the past but has never done a national video show. Peggy Lee, who was to be the fine, bright shining star with Warner Bros. after her debut in The Jazz Singer last year, has just been dropped. That leaves Doris Day as the only chirper on the lot. Stand far, far back: Spike Jones is in his first film opus in five years. The madcap joins Abbott and Costello in a harum-scarum pic called Fireman, Save My Child. Cornel Wilde is getting into a composer's rut. He played Chopin in A Song to Remember a few years ago and did such a fine job, assisted by the unseen fingers of Jose Iturbi, that he got a recall to do the same role for the upcoming Columbia film, Story of Franz Liszt. All the vocal recordings have finally been done for the Judy Garland remake of A Star is Born, and the singer started film production last month. The studio is doing a reverse and banning all publicity about the star, while working, until the picture is in the can.

DOWN BEAT FIVE STAR DISCS

POPULAR: Mary Martin - Ethel Merman - Ford 50th Anniversary Duet (Decca Du 999)

JAZZ: Woody Herman - Moten Stomp (Mars 900)

CLASSICAL: Eleanor Steber - Mozart 9 Columbia ML 4694)
Albeneri Trio - Beethoven Trios (Mercury MG 10139)

ON THE CLASSICAL SIDE: The Fine Arts Quartet is releasing binaural and monaural pre-recorded tapes around Christmas. Helen Traubel has left the RCA-Victor classical stable and is being sought after by several major labels. Epic division of the Columbia Label is issuing hi-fi recordings of the Concertgebouw of Amsterdam, Berlin Philharmonic and the Vienna Symphony.

K AND K READY NEW PRODUCTION

The Knights and Knaves began casting this week for their 1953-54 production of the prize-winning Broadway play "Shadow and Substance."

Dave Essenfeld has been cast in the leading role of "The Cannon," along with Miss Pat Stancliff of Trinity College in the female lead of "Brigid."

The play, a drama in four acts, by Paul V. Carroll was first produced in Dublin, Ireland by the Abbey Theatre before coming to this country.

The story deals with the Catholic Church in Ireland. Its theme lies in the "ramifications of a faith that, for all its sincerity, has drifted from its deepest moorings; and the manner in which a true, steadfast, innocent, and unselfish believer, a young girl, brings the contentious others back to first principles."

Further castings and proposed dates of production will be announced at a later date.

MICHAELMEN SPEND SUMMER IN FAR OFF CORNERS OF THE WORLD

By Dave Quinlan

Since Michaelmen are away at school eight out of the 12 months of the year, when summer comes around, most like to stick close to home.

Such is not the case, however, with two enterprising Michaelmen; Craig Tynan and Bob Wheel, who roamed everywhere but close to the home fires. -And in opposite direction!

Craig, a sophomore from Pleasantville, N.Y., spent the summer working for his father's firm, The Tynan Travel Corp. of New York City. His duties took him to the Far East where it was his task to check on tourist facilities considered for clients for the company, evaluate them, and report on the prices and service prospective tourists might expect to receive at each of the places. His itinerary included Hawaii, the Philippines and Japan.

As a travel agent, he traveled on a free pass on all air lines, stayed at the best hotels-gratis, and received substantial reduction on guided tours and most of his other expenses.

Japan, he said, looking back on what he called a very enjoyable summer, was expecially intriguing. It abounds with Buddist and Shinto temples and Geisha girls as well.

He said that his one big regret was that he didn't wear loafers on the journey as he had to remove his shoes at the entrance of each of the temples visited.

Armed with a volume of " Japanese In Three Weeks,-" which incidentally he said helped him out of tight spots on occasion,-he proceeded to carry out his duties in the " land of the rising sun." All was not work, however. He found time to hike Mt. Fujiyama, just outside Tokyo, which rises 12,365 ft. above see level (that's about three Mansfields). This he accomplished on what he learned afterwards was the hottest day since the war.

Traveling is nothing new to Tynan and previous summers found him in France, Italy (for the Holy Year), Mexico and South America. A business major, Craig hopes to make the Travel Agency business his career. He seems to have an excellent start. Michaelmen interested in travel abroad would do well to contact him.

Another Michaelman, senior Bob Wheel of St. Ann's Apt., Miketown, traveled not as an occupation but for education.

He and his young wife were two of 80 foreign students in England enrolled in courses in Shakespearean and Elizabethan drama at Stratford-on-Avon (the home of Shakespeare), a department of Birmingham University.

He said that the technique of teaching differed a great deal from St. Michael's in that it was almost exclusively lectures with few quizzes. As a student he witnessed plays at the nearby Memorial theater weekly and took many school tours to points of interest in the Midlands. While in England he had occasion to see the queen during a public appearance at Buckingham Palace.

After six weeks in England, the Wheels did not return immediately to the United States but toured the continent. Germany, France, Italy, Switzerland, Belgium and Holland were visited. In Italy Mr. Wheel had occasion to use the Italian language which he had learned. He said his Italian and the Italians' Italian didn't jell too efficiently, but all went well.

In most of the countries he had little trouble with language, however, because the guides with whom he came in contract usually spoke English.

When asked what country he like best he answered emphatically " Definitely England. "

An English major, Bob would like to return to England upon graduation for further study.

Mr. Donoghue New Head Of Glee Club

St. Michael's College Glee club is being tuned up and toned up this year by a new director.

He is John D. Donoghue, public relations director, already director of the college choir and a former soloist at St. Patrick's Cathedral in New York.

While the Glee club officers, led by President Robert Wagner, are aiming for their Christmas and Spring Festival programs, the singing Michaelmen are striving to build a repertoire that will enable them to give several concerts next year when the college will be celebrating its Golden Jubilee.

Each Thursday night at 6:30, the Glee Club members rehearse in their room on the second floor of Aquinas hall. The songs run all the way from Bach chorales to Fred Waring arrangements of such hit tunes as "You'll Never Walk Alone."

Folk songs from many countries will also be featured this year by the Glee Club. Mr. Donoghue himself has a repertoire of hundreds. Many of them he has used in his own lecture-recitals.

"They're not only good music," he says, "but they remind us that our own music has been enriched by contributions from many different but welcome sources."

LEADERS ARE TRAINED

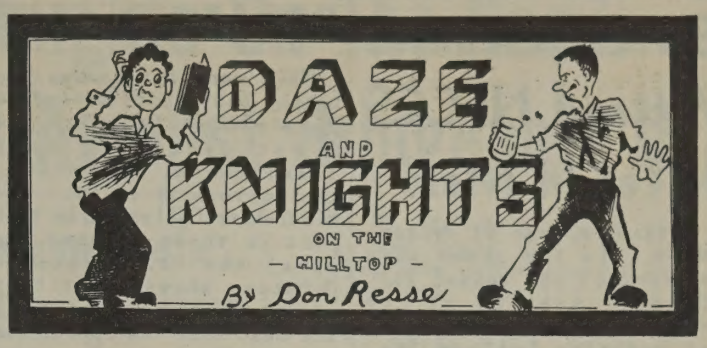
One of the devices being used this year to bring the Glee club to a high degree of performance is the system of section leaders. Four student leaders work a half hour each week with their own sections, getting notes down cold.

Then when the full club meets, the director can spend more time on polishing such details as balance, tone, attack and the other elements by which a good glee club is judged.

Those who are helping this year are: Roger Baillargeon, first tenors; Tom Murphy, second tenors; Bob Wagner, baritones; and Ray Shepard, bass. They meet the director once a week to go over the music to be sung and they are getting a kind of seminar in conducting.

"It'll come in handy," says the director, "in case they have to direct a choir or glee club later on.

One big problem this year has been the shortage of accompanists. Dick Thibodeau stepped out of the bass section to fill in at first rehearsal when non appeared and he's been doing a fine job since, though "I prefer to sing," he growls. Some songs which have four hand accompaniments have had to be shelved because of the bashfulness of the ivory ticklers.



IN GENERAL. Once again things seem to be running as abnormally as usual at S.M.C. which only proves that another school year is well under way, and that all Michaelmen are firmly resolved to maintain the high (?) standards of scholarship as set down by their predecessors. Thus begins the first (and maybe the last -- we hope not) in a series of forgettable articles on the DAZE and KNIGHTS at the Hilltop.

Suppose we start this scandal sheet thusly:

How many witnessed the antics of two hard-up frosh after the Quonset Naval - S.M.C. grid duel? Seems that two former beanie bearers spent two hours searching the grass beneath the stands seeking the few coins lost earlier by a cheering alumnus.....How's the pickins boys????

TONY AGOSTINELLI was playing the squeese box one night and when the proctor walked in the conversation went like this: Fr. " Do you know the guy in the next room is trying to study? " Tony A. " No, I don't....Hum a little of it. "

GESUNDHEIT....We saw Bob Bolster shirtless walking around the infirmary several times the other day when the temperature was an even 50....The words was he had a cold and had reported to the infirmary for medication....PERE DUBE said he didn't have a thing for a cold but there was a wonderful new remedy out for pneumonia, Soooo....

QUESTION....Wanna blind date????

ANSWERS.....Intelligent girl..What books does he read?
Beautiful girl....Is he athletic and handsome?
Wealthy girl.....What kind of car has he?
Religious girl...Does he attend church often?
My girl.....Where is he?

Meanwhile back on the farm....

How about the stalag rage in old Hall????

SOPHOMORE after viewing his courses under the new curriculum asked, " Did I enroll here or was I sentenced? "

MIKETOWN NOTES....And the belles ring clear and true.. Three cheers to the ladies of Miketown for their volunteering to help at the blood drive....A very UNreliable souce, er source, reports that a certain MR. G. wasn't exactly pleased with Tuesday's breakfast....Seems he was served ENGLISH muffins.

While on the subject, it seems a new dwelling not far from campus has the honor of housing the latest frat in the vicinity....Beta Alpha Mu.

NON-CENTS....The boys in ST. LEO'S have trouble scraping up nickels for the phone....Story is that a three year old from nearby (initials A.C.) is kept well fed by the candy machine there....Sounds like insurance for Latin exams....PROF. VINCI writes that things are fine in Spain....Watch those Senoritas Mrs. V..... Paulin(E) Privilege?? ....Fr. Paulin (the shutter bug) took pictures of the R.O.T.C. on Tues. last....Says he's going to show them to the officers here....unless anyone would care to buy them first....Line forms to the right.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY....Proof that the founders of own college were realists and men of foresight lies in the fact that the chow hall was built next to the infirmary....Holy Cross does it differently. The dining hall was named for the Jesuit with ulcers, the gym for a Jebbie who never exercised.

QUESTION OF THE DAY....What S.M.C. professor wrote Arthur Godfrey seeking a recently vacated spot on his show??? THINK.

SMC Delegates Attend NFCCS Meet In Mass

Regis College at Weston, Mass., is the scene this weekend of the annual fall Council meeting of the NFCCS (National Federation of Catholic College Students.)

This Council will be one of the most important of the year, starting on Friday night and continuing until Sunday afternoon, for it is the first meeting of all NFCCS delegates, commission chairmen, and personnel. A special session is being devoted to orientation of senior delegates, commission chairmen, and campus publicity directors.

The meeting will also outline NFCCS activity for the coming year and will consist of interesting discussions of our various programs: Representating St. Michael's will be:
Joseph McCann- Senior Delegate.
John Crean-Junior Delegate
Frank Carmichael-Delegate-Publicity Director.

The NFCCS is an organization whichprovides service to extra-curricula groups on campus, working through the Student Council. It is not a club but a service organization working for the good of all clubs. The elected delegates act as a center for information and as a medium of exchange in Students Affairs and other matters of interest to students.

This organization was founded:
1) To provide more effective Catholic influence in student life, 2) to promote unity among member colleges, and 3) to prepare ourselves for the task of lay leadership.

By virtue of your being a student at St. Michael's College, you are a member of the NFCCS and are invited to participate in its activities.

DEBATING CLUB SPLITS IN FIRST

This week the Newman Debeting Society travelled to Middlebury, Vt., for the first series of four Tournaments. Dartmouth, the University of Vt., and Middlebury College also took part in these debates. As usual the St. Michael's Debators showed that they were capable of meeting the best that the opposition has to offer.

The St. Michael's teams won two and lost two. This is an excellent percentage for Tournament Debating.

The purpose of these four Tournaments is to give the novice debators a chance to gain some much needed experience, and to give the varsity men some additional practice andpolish. The week after these Tournaments are over the St. Michael's debators will enter the Vt., Invitational Tournament, competing with some 45 other colleges.

The second in this series of Tournaments will be held at St. Michael's College next Wednesday, November 4. All interested students are invited to attend.

At Middlebury the affirmative was upheld by Henrick Bredenberg and David Sevigny. The negative side was defended, by John Carroll and John O Connor. Prof. Murphy, moderator of the Club, also took the trip to Middlebury.

Naval Team On Campus

A Naval Aviation Cadet procurement team from the U. S. Naval Air Station, Squantum, Mass., will be in Old Hall on Wednesday, November 4, from 10:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m. to interview all students interested in Naval Aviation.

Lance Set To Go To Press

The editor of "The Lance," David Essenfeld, announced recently only a few days remain in which to write and submit material for publication in your college magazine.

Since "The Lance " is to receive an entirely different form this year, an outline, to more clearly define the type of material wanted, has been set up by the Editorial Board.

The various announcements which have appeared have made it clear that they do not want any work which is obscure, dry, or uninteresting for the large majority of students. "The Lance " is a magazine for all the students of Saint Michael's College, not for just the few "elite " the editor said.

Well-written essays, short stories or poems will be accepted for publication. Also desireable are accounts of interesting travel experiences, clever jokes, anecdotes and cartoons.

This year "The Lance " will also include a section designed for those who have neither the time nor the desire to fully expound upon them in the written medium. Any views which you may have on Saint Michael's College will be accepted. You need only submit a rough sketch of your ideas on a sheet of paper. The editor will combine all of the material received into a general discussion of the students' views on the college. (Your name may be with-held on request.

If you can draw well, "The Lance " has a department for you this year. You are invited to visit the editor for further information on this matter. However, whether you can draw or not, ideas on a new cover design for our magazine will be appreciated.

PAUL CROTTY

Although his home is in North Walpole, N.H., Paul Crotty began his football career at Bellows Falls High in Vermont. An end on the varsity for three years, Crotty 5' 170 pounds, was named to the All Vermont team in his junior and senior years.

After a season with the undefeated SMC frosh team in '50, Paul moved right up to the varsity, Last fall, Paul was one of the leading pass receivers the Knights had, pulling down three touchdown passes. The Free Press All State squad listed Crotty at left end. Last week, Paul stole a Springfield pitch-out and ran 35 yards for his first TD in '53.

A Flights leader holding the rank of Cadet Second Lieutenant in the ROTC, Paul will go into observer training and become a bombardier while in the Air Force.

Graduating AB in Social Studies, Crotty hopes eventually to pick up his Masters Degree in Physical Education at Springfield and go into football coaching.

JIM McDONALD

Jim McDonald, a 5' 11" 185 pound end from Concord, New Hamsphire, has been a mainstay on the varsity since his sophomore year. He saw a great deal of action both on offense and defense for the Knights in '52, until his injury. Jim's knee buckled in the AIC game and it forced him to retire for the remainder of the season.

McDonald picked up football as an end for St. John's High in Concord, and capped his varsity career there when he was selected for a wing berth on the All New Hampshire squad as a senior.

Although not a regular starter this season, Jim is still Jacobs most reliable reserve. He has appeared in every game thus far and is one of Barbati's favorite receivers on short passes. Jim has taken four of them, including a point after toss in the Norwich game.

In the ROTC program, Mc Donald is a Cadet Lt. Colonel and Commander of a group. Besides being a member of the Arnold Air Society, he received a Distinguished Military Student Award this semester.

Maroon Rally Tops SM31-20

Undefeated Springfield College exploded for 19 points in the final period to hand the Knights their first loss of the season, 31-20 at Pratt Field. Maroon Halfback Norm Morris crossed the St. Michael's goal line four times and compiled over 115 yards rushing to pace the Springfield attack.

Both teams scored once in the opening period, but couldn't move the ball for the rest of the first half. The Knights drew first blood fight after the opening kickoff on two 35 yard Barbati to Gallagher passes. Pete Calabrese place-kicked the extra point.

A 69 yard run back of an intercepted pass set up the Maroons first tally. Morris carried it over from the nine and the score remained 7-6 at halftime.

St. Michael's hit pay-dirt twice in the opening minutes of the third quarter. Don Gallagher intercepted a Springfield pass at midfield and raced down the sidelines into the end zone. A short time later, Knight end Paul Crotty stole a Springfield pitch-out and galloped 36 yards for St. Michael's third TD. This time Barbati passed to Gallagher for the extra point, and a 20-6 lead.

The gymnasts closed the gap somewhat in the third stanza, when Morris capped a 33 yard drive by skirting end from the Knights' 8 for touchdown.

Before seven minutes had elapsed in the final quarter, Springfield had taken the lead. Taking advantage of two bad SMC punts, the punts, the Maroons opened up gaping holes in the Knights' line with Kenyon scoring from thirty yards out and Morris from the 12. The final score was decided when Morris intercepted a pass and the Springfield ace went over on the next play. A yacavone pass to Hoffinga gave Springfield their only extra point.

Knights On The Road Against Bridgeport U.

St. Michael's College grid squad makes its first appearance in Connecticut this weekend, when the Knights take on the University of Bridgeport at Candlelite Stadium.

Last year's contest between the Purple Knights of SMC and the Purple Knights of UB was the first in the series and saw St. Michael's trounce the Connecticut eleven 39-6. Since then, however, Arnold College has become a part of the University and Coach Walt Kondratovich has acquired key men from the Terrier squad. Some of them played important roles when Arnold snapped a ten game winning streak of St. Michael's last fall 13-9.

Bridgeport has five potential All-Staters to throw at SMC. End Joe Cirone is the nation's number four small college pass receiver and halfback Bobby Perez is currently leading UB in almost every offensive department. In addition, the Purple and white have a fine QB in Dick Giansello, a 225 pound tackle Hal Trischman and rugged center John Anderson. Ralph Consiglio runs from fullback and Roland Emery fills in the other scatback slot.

This season Bridgeport has won 2 and dropped 3. Victories came over Upsala and Adelphi, while losing to Hofsta, while losing to Hofstra, Brandeis and New Haven. With a while losing to Hofstra, Brandeis and New Haven. With a layoff last weekend, UB has had plenty of time to heal any injuries.

FOLEY OUT

St. Michael's will go into the game without the services of first string center, Dave Foley. Foley was injured in the Springfield contest and isn't expected to make the Bridgeport trip. Coach George " Doc " Jacobs has inserted freshman Bob Caprio in his slot. Caprio has seen limited action in all of the Knights' contests this fall.

Tackle Cary Hamrah and fullback Ted Bergeron, who were on the injured list have returned to the squad and will start for St. Michael's. Both were slowed up in the Springfield game, but did play. Carmen Parrella and Don Gallagher carry from the halfback post and John Barbati calls the signals.

In the forward wall, Paul Crotty and John Pierce are at end with Jim McDonald and Jerry Cronan in reserve. Along with Hamrah, Joe Antone fills in at tackle and Bob Leahy and Roland Bourque at guard,

Intramurals

Racking up the highest point score in the Intramural league history, St. Leo's trounced Ryan Hall IV 66-25. By virture of the win, St. Leo's moved into first place in the basketball loop with a record of 4 victories and 1 loss. Denny Taber and Russ Camire sparked the winners with 17 and 14 points respectively, while Steve O'Brien paced the Ryaners with 8.

Old Hall III came back from a 19-18 deficit at halftime to beat St. John's 48-27. Jim McCormick and Bernie Creplicki both hit double figures for Old Hallers with John Kingston notching 12 for St. John's. The victory for Old Hall III gained them a tie with St. James and Essex Junction for second place.

In the battle to stay out of the cellar, Chef's Diner topped Ryan I 44-26. Thirteen points by Paul O'Herin paced the Diner, while Fred Hannan tallied 14 for the losers.

Bob Bolster's Old Hall IV combo picked up two wins over the past week, downing Ryan II 57-36 and Old Hall II 35-31. Paul Ripchik tossed in 15 points in each game to lead Old Hall IV. On the losing side, Tom Cowell got 17 for the Ryaners and Hank Berry 16 for Old Hall II.

Ryan Hall III put off a last half spurt by St. Williams and achieved a 36-33 win. High man with 12 points for Ryan Hall was Ray Garland while Jim Schaefer and Jack Kendrick teamed up for St. Williams.

Prof. Witham Is Honored

Myron E. Witham, professor of mathematics at St. Michael's, and once a football great was honored at Harvard this past weekend, when the Crimson celebrated the 50th anniversary of the building of its Stadium.

Back in 1903, Witham, quarterback of the Dartmouth eleven, christened the new field by leading the Indians to their first win over a Harvard team. In the same year, Witham was named quarterback of the All-America eleven, which included such greats as Heston of Michigan, Kafer of Princeton, Johnson of Carlisle and Smith of Columbia.

Prof. Witham coached and taught at Dartmouth and at the University of Colorado. He taught at Vermont until 1946, when he joined the St. Michael's faculty. He was also active in private industry for many years as a civil engineer.

Sailors Downed In Season's Final Meet

St. Michael's College Sailing team, the newest varsity sport at the hilltop, went down to defeat last weekend before the University of Vermont 12-11. The Dual match was held on the Knights' home grounds at the Mallets Bay Boat Club on Lake Champlain.

Going into the last race of the day, the Sailing Knights were tied with the Catamounts in point score, but dropped the decision. Dick Fiset, Fran Quinlan and Bob Bostley piloted the St. Michael's vessels against Vermont, in what was the final meet of the fall warm-up season.

Although the Knights did not fair to well this fall, they are hoping to improve on the record when they enter the regular schedule of meets set up by the Intercollegiate Sailing Association in the spring.

Last spring, St. Michael's made its best showing finishing second to M.I.T., in an Octogonal Meet held down in Boston.
